as a working artist leo buckley was invited to talk to the sixth grade of a local primary school the resulting question and answer session revealed an enormous appetite of the students for some simple rules to enable them to improve their drawing abilities they had been unable to find this information at their level in any book in the bookshops saying that the only available books either assumed knowledge which they did not have or else treated the topics so briefly as to be scarcely helpful as result leo returned with a few instructive talks on some of the basic principles of drawing using feedback from the pupils and teachers the talks were developed into a fairly comprehensive series on the subject which soon become in great demand by other schools for many years leo has presented the talks to schools covering a wide variety of schools and pupils and eventually including adult classes throughout this extended period the lessons were modified adjusted in contents and rearranged into the most logical sequence to better suit the need of this widening range of students at the frequent request of teachers and students of all age groups leo examined the possibility of compiling a book which would follow the successful pattern of his lectures even to the extent of displaying the illustrations and text on opposite pages as in a chalk and talk classroom environment this innovative and easy to follow method simplified the presentation enormously and he found that the lectures almost immediately fell into book form nicholas d smith presents an original interpretation of the republic considering it to be a book about knowledge and education over the course of summoning knowledge in plato s republic he argues for four main theses firstly the republic is not just a work that has a lot to say about education it is a book that depicts socrates as attempting to engage his interlocutors in such a way as to help to educate them and also engages us the readers in a way that helps to educate us secondly plato does not suppose that education properly understood should have as its primary aim putting knowledge into souls that do not already have it instead the education plato discusses represents occurring between socrates and his interlocutors and hopes to achieve in his readers is one that aims to arouse the power of knowledge in us and then to begin to train that power always to engage with what is more real rather than what is less real thirdly plato s conception of knowledge is not the one typically presented in contemporary epistemology it is rather the power of conceptualization by the use of exemplars and finally plato engages this power of knowledge in the republic in a way he represents as only a kind of second best way to engage knowledge and not as the best way which would be dialectic instead plato uses images that summon the power of knowledge to begin the process by which the power may become fully realized
