the mass of paul vi is so deeply flawed that it cannot be repaired from within whether by copious helpings of smells and bells by arbitrary attempts at traditionalizing or by an official reform of the reform and the roman mass inherited from the age of faith did not and does not need to be reformed along antiquarian or pastoral utilitarian lines as it fulfills the highest act of religion in a fitting manner perfected over many centuries of prayerful practice the liturgical revolution driven by ideology culminated in balkanization banality and boredom its fabrications must be retired from use and the traditional rite must be restored to its rightful place of honor in the church of the latin rite such are the bold claims defended in close the workshop why the old mass isn t broken and the new mass can t be fixed in which peter kwasniewski refutes the reformers own case for reforming the old rite and illustrates the subtle dangers to which clergy and laity are exposed by attempts at doing the new rite reverently simultaneously he reminds traditionalists that they should aspire to the noblest possible celebration of the mass always faithfully observing the rubrics and resisting bad habits that interfere with the rite s full splendor and efficacy unseemly haste minimalism ineptitude and the itch for pastoral experimentation if the catholic church in the west is ever to recover her internal soundness and external cultural influence her shepherds and her flocks must let the ill advised council of the 1960s and the bauhaus liturgy cobbled together in its name lapse into obsolescence so that the perennially fresh theology of the council of trent and the immortally beautiful liturgy of the roman church may once again flourish unfettered

a modern ex christian tree hugging american woman comes up against a strange wish for church but only if it could be radically different from what she s known it would have to be one steeped in women s equality and freedom of thought unexpectedly she finds herself on a journey like a canoe trip the journey will heal her past widen her present world and offer hope for the future guided by her experiences in river canoeing navigating the river learning its currents and riding its sparkling energy her story unfolds through twelve years of pointed questions congenial fellow travelers and zesty discoveries she experiences firsthand what she cannot get from a solo journey including what it is to support native americans and how black womanist theology can make her a better white ally of black women paddling the river she is helped around fallen trees of biblical mistranslation and anti woman dogma after a cold water crash she repairs her canoe and emerges joyful again with a new more flexible strength looking ahead she follows clues about how the river is changing other churches renewing and making them better neighbors and climate activists
